

Procemin·GEOMET·2017

13th International Mineral Processing Conference
4th International Seminar on Geometallurgy

October 4-6

Hotel Grand Hyatt, Santiago, Chile

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

There are over 60 abstracts approved by authors from 12 countries among which are Australia, Brazil, Canada, Peru, USA.

Simultaneous Spanish-English interpretation will be available in all sessions. Oral presentations can be made in either Spanish or English.

The program, with the list of abstracts received, can be found on our website.

PROCEMIN CONFERENCE THEMES

New processing technologies • Modeling, design, optimization and control of mineral processes • Conminution: crushing, grinding, SAG, HPGR • Classification, screening and mineral sorting • Flotation: fundamentals, reagents and industrial applications • Solid-liquid separation and tailings retreatment • Processing of precious metals, industrial and ferrous minerals • Expansions and new projects • Operation and plant management • Minerals economy and material recycling.

GEOMET CONFERENCE THEMES

Applied mineralogy • Mineral and clay characterization • Mineral sampling • Testing and prediction of process performance: crushing, grinding, flotation, leaching, sedimentation • Prediction of chemical stability of tailings and mine wastes • Geometallurgical characterization and modeling • Production planning and scheduling • Metallurgical balance and reconciliation • Case studies and industrial practices • Technology and software for data analysis and geometallurgy development.

Executive Committee

CHAIR

Leonardo Flores

Metallurgy Superintendent, SGO
Project, BHP Billiton, Chile

CO-ORGANIZERS

Alice Clark

Director, Production Centres,
Sustainable Minerals Institute,
University of Queensland, Australia

Froilán Vergara

Director, Department of Metallurgical Engineering,
Universidad de Cocepción, Chile

Ursula Kelm

Director, Institute for Applied
Economic Geology (GEA),
Universidad de Concepción, Chile
